The U.S. Embassy in Hanoi assumes no responsibility for the professional ability or integrity of the following persons or firms. They appear in alphabetical order, and their order has no other significance. The U.S. Embassy understands that the right to appear before a Vietnamese court requires membership in a local or provincial attorney association. Foreign legal firms are entitled to provide legal consultancy services and other services, but they are not permitted to practice criminal law in Vietnam. Also, they are not permitted to appoint their lawyers to participate in legal proceedings in the capacity of defense counsel or as the representative of a client before the courts in Vietnam. For advice and assistance in this area, it is advisable to contact the firms detailed below for their recommendation on Vietnamese lawyers practicing criminal law. Vietnamese lawyers’ understanding of English ranges from basic to good.

American citizens are additionally advised to reach agreement on what services will be provided and what fees will be charged during the initial consultation with any lawyer.
